

8th June 2020Coronavirus Update Statement

As a valued customer we wanted to update you with how we are proceeding during the COVID-19 pandemic and to reassure you that we are still operating as normally as circumstances allow.

We are closely following the government's roadmap for reopening businesses; many of our staff continue to work from home, but we have been liaising with the wider Alfa team about reintroducing office-working, where appropriate. Measures are in place to ensure staff working at the office stay safe. Anyone showing signs of illness is following UK government advice to self-isolate.

The majority of our suppliers are continuing to supply normally, but any notifications that Alfa Chemicals receives from suppliers regarding disruption of supply will be assessed rapidly for impact and the relevant information passed downstream to relevant parties. If you have concerns about your inventory, please place forward orders with us so that we can help you manage your supply.

There continues to be delays with airfreighted cargo due to flight cancellations by the airlines. These delays may cause an increase in some delivery times and delivery costs where air freight is used. Land and sea freight are currently minimally affected.

As always, we are available to answer any questions you may have regarding the situation, just contact your Alfa Chemicals sales representative.

Yours sincerely,

Trevor Mathers
