What is LVT/SPC

Luxury Vinyl Tile (LVT) is a flooring material designed to mimic the natural appearance of stone, marble, travertine, and wood. Thanks to advancements in technology and design, LVT now closely resembles the materials it imitates. It offers several advantages, including lower cost, improved scratch resistance, and waterproof properties. LVT is available in a wide variety of timeless and trendy designs, presented in formats such as tiles, planks, or herringbone patterns, effectively replicating the look of traditional tiles or wooden flooring.

Stone Plastic Composite (SPC) flooring, often referred to as “rigid flooring,” is a type of vinyl flooring that combines the aesthetic of wood with the durability of stone. This innovative flooring option is rapidly gaining popularity among those seeking stylish, resilient, and easy-to-install solutions. With its unique features, SPC flooring is becoming a top choice for modern homes and commercial spaces.

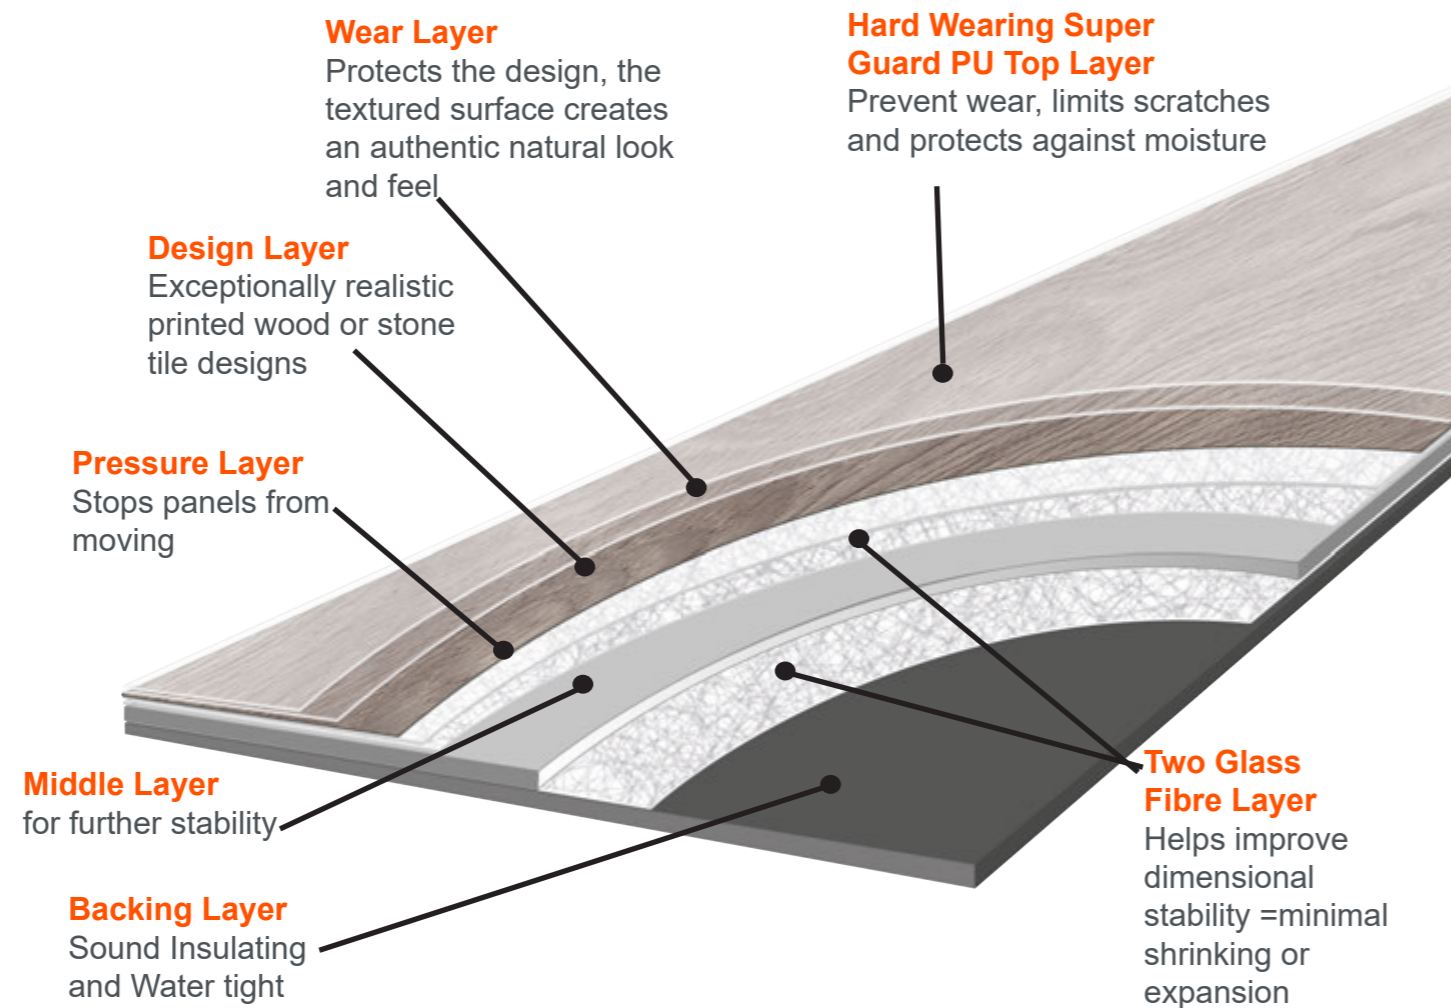

Furlong Flooring®

First choice flooring for every room

Unlike traditional natural materials like wood, ceramics, or stone, our luxury vinyl tile (LVT) flooring boasts a superior construction of multiple layers that significantly enhances its durability and versatility. This innovative design unlocks an extensive array of design possibilities, making it the perfect choice for transforming your space and infusing your flooring with striking visual appeal.
